

PROGRAM RULES

The miniPerc Training Program: A Bridge to Guangzhou- by Devicare & Dr. Zeng

The participation in the 1st Edition of the miniPerc Training Program: A Bridge to Guangzhou- by Devicare & Dr.Zeng necessarily implies full and unconditional acceptance of these rules by the participant.

1. PURPOSE OF THE CALL AND MAIN OBJECTIVES

The purpose of this call is to award a program to Spanish healthcare professionals with a recognized medical specialization in Urology, supporting their participation in an advanced clinical training program in Guangzhou, China.

The selected candidate will engage in a two-week immersive program dedicated to mini-Percutaneous Nephrolithotomy (PCNL), conducted under the direct supervision of Dr. Guohua Zeng, a globally renowned expert in endourology.

Exclusively aimed at Spanish urologists, the program is granted annually to one exceptional applicant. The main objective of this program is to offer an intensive academic and practical experience designed to refine surgical skills, improve clinical outcomes, and ultimately enhance the quality of care for patients with renal lithiasis.

This initiative promotes professional excellence, encourages international collaboration, and supports the advancement and dissemination of specialised surgical expertise within the urological community.

This program offers a unique educational opportunity to gain advanced clinical knowledge and additional benefits designed to enrich the professional journey of the selected candidate:

- Official Certification: receive a certificate of participation jointly issued by the hosting institution and the organizing body, validating their commitment to continuous medical education.
- Global Networking: connect with leading international experts in PCNL and build lasting professional relationships that can foster collaboration and career growth.
- Firsthand Surgical Experience: gain valuable insights into high-volume surgical environments and observe best practices in mini-PCNL performed by top-tier specialists.

2. MAIN SPONSOR AND COLLABORATING INSTITUTIONS

The program is promoted and coordinated by Devicare, a recognised institution committed to the advancement of urological training and international medical exchange, who will be the main sponsor

In collaboration with The First Affiliated Hospital of Guangzhou Medical University, and under the scientific guidance of Dr. Guohua Zeng, an internationally renowned expert in percutaneous nephrolithotomy (PCNL), the program offers a unique opportunity for advanced clinical immersion in China.

The initiative reflects a joint effort to foster academic excellence, promote the globalisation of medical expertise, and support the continuous development of urologists through hands-on experience in high-level healthcare settings.

3. PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

The selected candidate will participate in an intensive clinical and observational training program focused on mini percutaneous nephrolithotomy (mini-PCNL), under the supervision of a leading international expert in the field.
